Q (c) The details of the selling price of various petroleum products like diesel, petrol, CNG, kerosene and LPG and the cess levied on each of these products;

Ans.(c) The selling price of various petroleum products is fixed by Mktg Companies based international price, taxes and levies imposed by central and state Government and market dynamics. Details about taxes and other levies may be obtained from PPAC.

Q (d) The measures taken by the Government on the production of various petroleum products and cut the refining cost of each with a view to provide these at a reasonable price to the consumer ?

Ans.(d). India has developed vibrant refining industry, which has been upgraded continually. The Indian refineries have continuously taken steps to improve performance and reduce operating cost and energy consumption. Presently the Indian refining industry is the 4th largest in the world and newer refineries are fairly complex and compete with best in the world. The Oil Sector is deregulated and the prices of the petroleum products are fixed by companies based on international prices and market dynamics.
